Amazing war veteran speech video review:

Our Understanding After Years Of Research & Due Diligence...

Why is it that so many war veterans are finally speaking out about the consequences of being a soldier and the effects of war? It has become a popular topic on the internet and all throughout media worldwide. This particular soldier speaks out about racism in the military and how racism is a large part of why war is waged.

When speaking about the government he states;"They understand that their wealth is dependent on their ability to convince the working class to die to control the market of another country….and convincing us to kill and die is based on their ability to make us think that we are somehow superior."

It appears that throughout decades of war the truth is finally starting to become clearer to the soldiers involved. Post Traumatic Stress Disorder is not a myth. It has affected an extraordinary amount of soldiers throughout the beginning of war.

Peace Maker Society advocates for unregistered, unincorporated rights. Also known as Unalienable rights which are the foundation to freedom for us as a people and a society. The abuse of individual rights is unacceptable and we are here to help educate on these and many more world issues. www.peacemakersociety.org

The term we have found for the above topic is Institutional Hatred, and it is used in POLICE forces, PRISONS in how they train their staff, to view those they are supposed to be trying to understand, they blind them with hate, fear and chaos theory, which the staff carries out in fact upon the populations of the planet.

Contact our Advocacy Program if you have been the victim of Institutional Hatred.
